NO RECORD EXPECTED

Seating Capacity of Sox and Giants' Parks Hold Down Figures.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. — If the seating capacity of the baseball parks in which play will be staged were not limited there is no question that new attendance records would be established in the coming world series between the Chicago Americans and the New York Nationals. So keen is the interest and enthusiasm created by this inter-sectional struggle for diamond supremacy between the teams of the two largest cities of the nation that under certain conditions it is likely even the figures of 1912 may be surpassed.

In the coming games the New York polo grounds will seat 37,000 spectators, in round numbers, while the Chicago White Sox park, with due allowance for any temporary stands that Comiskey may elect to erect, will not exceed this paid seating capacity. As a basis of comparison, therefore, the maximum capacity of either park may be placed at approximately 37,000. Many close followers of the playing ability of the two teams involved have reached the conclusion that, given anything like an even break in the luck of the game, the series will go at least six games before a decision is reached.

If this proves to be the case the total attendance in round numbers would aggregate 222,000 as against the 251,991 actual paid admissions in the New York-Boston series of 1912, which, including one tie contest, went eight games. In order to surpass these figures at least seven games between the New York and Chicago clubs will be necessary to bring the aggregate attendance up to 259,000.

Two Dollars a Head.
In the 12 series which have been played since 1903 the official average attendance amounted to 1,701,777 and the receipts $2,874,224, giving an average charge of admission of $1.67 per spectator for the each of the 74 games played. If this same rate were applied to a seven-game series between Chicago and New York the total gate receipts would amount to $432,530, of which the national commission would take $43,253, the players $148,296, and the club owners about $241,000.

These figures and divisions of gate receipts would not exceed those of the 1912 series, however, on the basis of an average charge of $1.67 per spectator, but in recent years the average price of admission has been considerably increased as it was about $2.35 per head in the 1916 series. Allowing for certain proposed reductions, the rate should fall much below $2, which would give approximately $518,000 for a seven-game series between the Chicago and New York clubs. This would exceed by more than $28,000 the record receipts now credited to the 1912 series.

NATIONAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The National league season closed here Sunday with a 9 to 2 victory for Boston over Chicago. The visitors batted the local pitchers at will and this coupled with erratic fielding gave them the game. Vic Saire, who had been out of the Chicago lineup since April 27, when he broke his leg, returned to first base today. He got three hits in four times at bat and handled eight fielding chances without a bobbie. Score: Boston, 9; Chicago, 2. Box score: Boston, 9; Chicago, 2. Box score: Boston, 9; Chicago, 2.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 1.—Cincinnati closed its season here Sunday by taking two games from New York, 9 to 5 and 4 to 0. The first game was a free hitting contest on both sides, but the locals managed to combine their long drives with New York errors. Score: Cincinnati, 9; New York, 5.

First game: New York, 5; Cincinnati, 9. Box score: New York, 5; Cincinnati, 9. Box score: New York, 5; Cincinnati, 9. Box score: New York, 5; Cincinnati, 9.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—Philadelphia won a double victory over St. Louis Sunday, 11 to 2 and 10 to 6. The double header closed the National league season here. Score: Philadelphia, 11; St. Louis, 2.

First game: Philadelphia, 11; St. Louis, 2. Box score: Philadelphia, 11; St. Louis, 2. Box score: Philadelphia, 11; St. Louis, 2.

WESTERN LEAGUE. HUTCHINSON, Kans., Oct. 1.—Des Moines took the second game of a double-header Sunday, 4 to 0, from Hutchinson and thereby won the championship of the Western league, four games to two. Des Moines topped the other clubs in the first part of the divided season period.

INTER-HALL TEAMS BUSY AT N. DAME

With high hopes of winning the interhall championship this fall, Coaches Robert McGuire, Peter Ronchetti and M. Ryan were given an opportunity to look over the material for the Walsh hall team Sunday morning. Twenty-two men reported for first practice yesterday, but the coaches are confident that the number will grow in a few days. Last fall Walsh hall team, which is under the care of the rector, the Rev. John Farley, C. S. C., made a strong bid for the championship, but in the deciding battle was defeated by Corby hall. However, with practically the same backfield, Walsh hopes to defeat all rivals in the coming contests.

The following men have reported for the Walsh team: P. Scofield, J. Bailey, P. McFeeley, J. Whitehead, P. Witting, E. Bader, S. Connell, F. Fack, L. Fitzgerald, W. Stevens, J. Malloy, R. Hood, G. Fischer, J. Wheeler, B. Kirk, E. Sheedy, H. Foley, J. Cauley, A. Mirth, B. Hancock.

AT SORIN HALL.

Sherwood Dixon and Edward Madigan will pilot the Sorin combination this fall. Madigan and Dixon were chosen coaches at a rally held by the Sorinites and the men pledged themselves to work hard to have a strong contender for the interhall honors this fall. Although a small number reported for initial duty Sunday morning, Coach Madigan announced that he had a few players who would surprise the entire student body. The list of the Sorin candidates is as follows: B. Marshall, R. Sullivan, J. J. Ryan, D. McGlynn, F. Saino, V. Giblin, F. Mulligan, H. Lavery, A. Lockery, P. Larrazola, A. Halloran, A. Blackman, R. Blackman.

Thirty men began practicing Sunday morning on the Brownson hall campus. Brother Casimir, C. S. C., prefect in Brownson hall and athletic director, appointed Norman Barry, candidate for the varsity eleven, head coach. Barry will cause his staff of assistants in a few days. The Brownson team will be managed by Francis McGrain this fall.

Brownson will present a light team, and the prospects are bright. Two teams will represent the Main building this fall. The second team will be made up of chiefly ex-Carrollites, who will battle with the other eleven for the lightweight championship.
